

SOCIETY

Thanksgiving is over and society is riding upon the threshold of the Christmas month, the month as well in which season arrives, and the round of merriment, teas and receptions begin.

At Westmoreland hosts will lead off the matter of gayeties, the first of a series of dances falling on Friday.

Club in the city has so beautiful a room for music and dancing as the Westmoreland sun parlor, and it is a foregone conclusion that any entertainment in there will be a thing of "joy and merriment."

The Richmond German Club will begin its season a little later, about the middle of the month, and all of them are looking forward to a brilliant round, with social features for the Christmas and New Year celebrations.

The entertainments in honor of the debutantes began with the festivities of Thanksgiving week.

Jessie Evans Hazard was formally introduced to society at a reception given by her mother, Mrs. Henry W. Hazard, on Friday afternoon last. The house was handsomely decorated with palms and yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Hazard was assisted in receiving by Mrs. John Harrison, Mrs. R. H. Isay, Miss Mary Lyons, Miss Paine, Miss Helen, Mrs. Berkeley Williams, Miss Laura Rutherford, Misses Lindsey, Carrie Armstrong, Miss Bessie Thompson, Miss Bernard Cooke, Miss Harriet Nolting and Miss Bertha Atkinson.

Debutantes appeared in radiant hues and smiles at the Thanksgiving gathering where they danced a figure formed by the letters of the rival universities at 10 o'clock, and did great credit to the grace and grace of the leader, Mr. Adolph Blair. The success of the German club is largely due to Mr. Blair and to the charming buds who directed it, Miss Ford and Miss Herbert.

A debutante circle spent a merry evening of last week with Mrs. Hardin Burley, who gave a "picture party" in honor of Miss Mary Drew. Her three guests, and invited their friends to meet the quartette. They met again in the lively trolley-hall, which graced the football field Thursday, and in the smart little post-supper given the same evening. Miss Lily Pogram and Miss Mary Perry. The fast rolling ball having set in motion will keep on its course, by next week affairs will be in full swing.

Ready matrons and maidens have been looking around for dainty articles to present their Christmas stores. December 1st, on Friday, December 1st, Mrs. C. W. Allen, of No. 15 in Sixth Street, has kindly offered drawing rooms to the Rosemary Circle of King's Daughters, of which she is an active member, for a sale of fancy articles.

The sale is for the benefit of the Anne Page cot at the Sheltering Arms hospital, the only entirely charitable institution of its kind in the city, and one which is doing a great work. The cot is always occupied and many poor people are nursed back to health and usefulness.

The articles offered at this sale are mostly new, pretty and very reasonable. Among the ladies interested in this sale are Mrs. E. T. D. Myers, Jr., Mrs. A. H. Christman, Mrs. James Allison, Mrs. H. Landon Cabell, Mrs. W. Morton and others.

The Woman's Club.
The Woman's Club will strike the key for the week to follow to-morrow noon at 4:30 o'clock, when Miss Allen, who is the guest of Mrs. J. Calhoun, and who has recently returned from a nine years' residence in the "talk on India," which will embody the results of her personal observation and experience in that most interesting of countries, the vastness of which is only comprehended when one is brought face to face with it. The way that Miss Easton proposes to do to-morrow.

Miss Easton's arrival in Virginia has been visiting the various educational centers in the State. She is so thoroughly cultured that her talk to sympathy and interest in the minds of those who are so fortunate as to be included in the number of her hearers.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Club of the Protestant Episcopal Church, a service of intercession will be held in St. Mark's at 4 P. M. to-day. Rev. James Morris will make the address, and an offering will be taken.

Ladies of the Sewing Society and the Peterkin Guild will have their annual luncheon and supper in the room of St. James' Episcopal Church, at the corner of Marshall and 11th Streets, from noon to 10 o'clock in evening of Friday, December 4th. They will be glad to welcome their friends.

Confirmed Drunkards Cured

BY ORRINE.

POLK MILLER DRUG CO.,

RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 12, 1903.

Orrine Co., Inc.,

Washington, D. C.

We feel sure it will be gratifying to you to know that in the time we have been selling ORRINE many individual cases come under our notice where your preparation has been used with signal success. Mothers and sisters have told us of husbands, brothers who, since they were given ORRINE (in most cases out of their knowledge), seem to have lost all desire for drink. Your preparation has brought much comfort and happiness to desolate homes. Prior to accepting the agency for ORRINE in Richmond we had offered other preparations for a like purpose, but took no one of them and refused to handle them. We feel, however, in selling ORRINE we are doing a great deal of good, and for this on we are desirous of continuing the sale of your excellent preparation.

Wishing you success, and with kindest regards, we are,

Very respectfully,

Mrs. W. E. Thurston
Patrons for the evening, among others, will be: Mrs. A. J. Montague, Mrs. J. Taylor Ellyson, Mrs. Barton H. Grundy, Mrs. L. N. Jones, Mrs. C. E. Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Crump, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Walker, Mrs. Louise Selden Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Miss Mary Willie Smoot, Mrs. Lucy Meade Maden, Miss Claire Gullamae, Mrs. G. M. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Butler and Mrs. W. B. Pizini.

Matinee Whist.

The "Matinee" Whist Club, organized last winter by Mrs. Dana Mealey and her sister, Miss Helen Morrison, will hold its first meeting this season with Mrs. Deane Mealey, at No. 18 East Franklin Street, on Thursday afternoon next at 4 o'clock.

The Kato Whist Club will meet Tuesday afternoon next with Mrs. D. T. Williams, at No. 210 East Franklin Street. The hour will be 4 o'clock.

The Stay-at-Home Whist Club will meet this week with Mrs. Honingham Spilman, at No. 924 West Grace Street.

The courtesy of Manager Fry has placed the Jefferson salon parlor at the disposal of Mrs. Anthony Waite, of Norfolk, who will be here Monday next, and desires to meet there the ladies of Richmond and talk to them about the association, which she hopes to form here, looking to the interests of the Jamestown Exposition.

Mrs. Waite, who is a prominent daughter of the Confederacy, is the chairman for the Ladies' Jamestown Association, and the best that can be said in regard to the part women will play in the great 1907 celebration will be said by her. The hour for the meeting will be 12 o'clock sharp. Mrs. Waite will leave Monday afternoon to keep other appointments.

Last Week's Weddings.

One of the prettiest wedding celebrations of last week took place at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning in the home of the bride's brother, Mr. William E. Nichols, of No. 210 North Nineteenth Street, when Miss Mary Simpson Nichols became the bride of Mr. John Apperson Davis.

The parlor was decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums, and the ceremony was impressively performed by the Rev. Robert A. Goodwin, of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Miss Mary L. Simpson, of Petersburg.

For these and many minor reasons we need help to pay our extra-taker and carry on the farm (all next June, when the annual subscription becomes due).

But the Co-operative Workers, those brave and noble young women, who, employed through all the working hours of the day, yet give of their scant leisure and slender means to maintain the Red have determined that the work must go on.

In an effort to raise money for this purpose, and although the student "club" sent from the city, they have secured the services of Mrs. E. J. Waterbury, the well known Christian worker, and will open a "Bazaar Sale" on December 4th and 5th.

They hope that all friends of the "Summer Rest" who wish to make contributions of clothes, shoes, furniture, carpets, ornaments, pictures, etc., will bring them to the "Bazaar Sale" on December 4th and 5th.

Mrs. Davis is the daughter of Mrs. Lee Simpson Nichols. Her husband is associated in business with Mr. M. C. Phaup, and is a son of Dr. H. W. Davis. The young couple have many friends and are held in the highest esteem in Richmond society. They received an array of beautiful and useful wedding gifts.

In Honor of Miss Potts.
Miss Carrie Lettish, of No. 201 South Third Street, entertained at a dance Friday evening in honor of Miss Lasse Potts, of Lake Waccamaw, N. C.

House and parlor decorations were in North Carolina colors and flags, in palms and flowers, and were most artistic. Those dancing included Miss Emily Jennings, Miss Ada and Miss Nellie Gray, Miss Bessie Hunter, Miss Quibby, of Bedford City; Miss Ella Jackson, Miss May, of Tidewater; Miss Florence Peple, Miss Pinder, Misses Quibby, Miss Lang, of New York; Miss Mary Carter Anderson, Miss Mary Ellett, Miss Winston, Miss Hoot, Miss Sara Harvie; Mrs. Stayman, Mrs. Hoot, Mrs. May, Mrs. Stayman, Mrs. Winston, Mrs. Haskell, Messrs. Len, Elmer, Campbell, Lane, Neal, Purcell, Winston, Haskell, Rawley, Woolford, Glenn, Hull, Elliott, Jurgens, Stayman, Elam, Spencer, Wray, Watson, Walker, Wilkinson and others.

The occasion was one of the pleasantest of the week and the season.

Birthday Party.

A very enjoyable birthday party was given on Thanksgiving night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Waite, in Chesterfield county, in honor of their daughter, Miss Helen. About fifty persons were present from this city, Manchester and Petersburg. Miss Waite received many presents from her friends. After playing games, music and dancing, the guests were ushered into the spacious dining-room, where tables, laden with everything to be found in the market or at a confectioner's, was partaken of. Among those present were: Misses Helen Waite, Martha Jewett, May Hughes, Nellie Clayton, Katie, Mammie and Jessie Donald, Lolla, Ida, Katie and Laura Williams, Emily Gary, Bessie Gary, Fannie Smith, Pearl Hunkel, Lillie Hunkel, Carrie Vaughan, Lillie Morris, Ruby Lipscomb, Rava Lipscomb, and Belle Waite; Messrs. Archibald, Thomas Beatty, Mr. Abbott Archer, Luther Wells, Robert Allen, Page Baird, Garland Holt, Chester Lloyd, Hugh Macintosh, Robert Johnson, W. R. Duell, Gilbert Blankenship, Russell Hart, Henry Kidd, J. W. Taylor, James R. Baughn and Harry Crooks.

Ladies interested in the management of the Summer Rest make the following appeal in its behalf:

The Summer Rest, for self-supporting women of Richmond and Manchester, is in need of help.

Opened in 1894 for young women who could not afford the usual price of a summer outing, including good fare, pure air, pleasant surroundings and comfortable beds, it has grown steadily in the favor of our people.

Its need has been demonstrated by an ever-increasing patronage, and although the season of 1903 opened three weeks later than usual, because of illness and death in the family of the president and manager of the Rest, the number of guests was greater than ever before.

They came to us tired in mind and body by the monotonous grind of daily toil, half sick, many of them, for change and rest. They left us strengthened, brightened, bettered for the work of life. Mountain air, glorious scenery, excellent fare, and the happy-hearted life of the Rest worked miracles for them.

Since so many came, and all paid the board of $2 a week, it may be asked why the treasury is now so empty as to threaten the suspension or even the termination of Summer Rest.

The answer: Because, while the price of living has increased one-third, the price of the Rest has not. The price of board, while for six years we have had the aid of annual subscriptions from kind friends, the Rest, these have not increased, but decreased under the stress of the times. Because the apple crop of the Summer Rest farm, a considerable part of the income, has been a failure for three years past, and bad seasons have so injured the hay crop that we have had to rely on our treasury to pay for feed for our horses. Because for two years the president of the Co-operative Workers has been prevented by the severe illness of an only sister from participating in any effort to raise money for the work by entertainments, etc. Because the increased number of guests has necessitated the purchase of more furniture, beds, linens, etc. For these and many minor reasons we

"both to him who gives and him who takes."

On Friday evening, November 27th, Miss Emma Du Val entertained a number of her friends in honor of Miss Virginia Egerton, of Raleigh, N. C., at the home of Mrs. J. Percy Winfree, on Woodland Heights. The rooms were beautifully decorated with potted plants and evergreens, the color scheme in the dining room being green.

The feature of the evening was a novel paper tearing contest. All the ingenuity of the contestants was put forth. The ladies' prize was won by Miss May Lipscomb and the gentlemen's prize by Mr. Crawley Blanton. Delicious refreshments were daintily served.

Those present were: Misses Egerton, of North Carolina; May Lipscomb, Mattie Owens, Ethel Du Val, Rene Reams, Emma Du Val, Ella Virginia Winfree, Messrs. William Alcorn, C. P. Banton, D. E. Craig, Armistead, Campbell Jacob, Branch Betty and Eddie Chandler.

Mrs. Sands' Reception.

Mrs. Alex. H. Sands was at home from 4 to 6 P. M. yesterday, her guest of honor being her charming niece, Miss Lucy Mason, of Louisville, Ky.

The house decorations were in pink, carried out in pink carnations, pink roses, pink tapers and pink-shaded candelabra. Palms were grouped here and there, and mantels were basked in foliage planted and trimmed with palms.

Mrs. Sands was gowned in white mull over pink; Miss Mason wore white hand-embroidered voile.

Mrs. Conway Sands was in charge of the salad bowl. Mrs. Otto Theodore Hess, of New York, poured wine, and Mrs. Thomas Armstrong helped to the ices.

Other ladies assisting were: Mrs. Charles F. Ferrall, Miss Tucker Sands, Miss Meade Burwell, Miss Susie Wolford, Miss Mamie Baughman, Miss Rives, of Washington, and Miss Emily Sands.

On last Thursday night, the Southside Merry Makers gave a Thanksgiving supper at the home of Miss Calais Bernard, No. 331 South Pine Street.

Music and parlor games were indulged in until 11 o'clock, when supper was served.

Those present were Misses Calais Bernard, Mary Martin, Minnie Wade, Lotie and Eva Robertson, Lillian and Alice French Bessie Leber, Pearl Ford, Julia Charter, and Nannie Robertson; Messrs. Ashby Fenson, Henry Ham, Norman Carter, Marion Meyer, Hugh Hadden, Robert Clayton, Charles and Reeves Williams, Frank Moltz, William James, Ed. Bernard and John Riddell. The guest of the society was Miss Davis, of Petersburg, and the party was chaperoned by Mrs. E. E. Bernard.

Last Week's Weddings.

Society was much interested in last week's weddings. Miss Anna Lee Alfriend, whose marriage to Mr. George Harkness Warren, of New York, was one of Wednesday's many nuptial events, is spending a part of her honeymoon with her bridegroom in Orange county, where she first made his acquaintance. Among the other weddings of Wednesday was that of Miss Bessie Taylor Forrest to Mr. Percy H. Lash, of Norfolk, Va., which took place in Park Place Methodist Episcopal Church, and was attended by a number of guests from Norfolk, Petersburg and other Virginia cities.

Miss Anne Page Walker and Mr. Benjamin Herndon West were married Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride, "Scottsville," near Orange, Va., the wedding being witnessed by a number of Richmond friends and relatives, one of whom was the Rev. Dr. Willingham, who performed the ceremony.

Miss Josephine Kemper Morton and Mr. Howell Warren Walker, of Farmville, Va., had a quiet, but pretty wedding celebration at 11 o'clock in the morning of Wednesday, the ceremony taking place in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Creed Haskins, of No. 608 North Tenth Street.

Another Wednesday marriage united Miss Margaret Frances Anglo and Mr. Fred G. Raymo, of New York, who were wedded by the Rev. Edward L. Goodwin, of St. Mark's Church, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anglo, of No. 916 West Clay Street.

The bride's uncle, the Rev. W. B. Halsey, officiated, Wednesday evening, when Miss Etta Desper, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Desper, and Mr. John T. Irving, of Clifton Forge, were married in the assembly room of the Woman's Christian Association, which was beautifully decorated by the ladies of the association board for the occasion.

One of the prettiest of home weddings took place Wednesday evening in No. 117 Lombardy Street, the home of Mrs. Susan W. Page, when her daughter, Miss Mary Woodley Page, became the bride of Mr. James Lownds Phipps, Jr., a well known young society and business man of Richmond.

A very quiet marriage took place at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the home of the bride, when Mrs. Ella S. Kay and Mr. William J. Harding, were married by the Rev. M. Ashby Young. Mrs. Harding is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James H. Harding, and will be pleased to see their friends at No. 811 Twenty-fourth Street.

Weddings in Prospect.

The marriage of Miss Lydia Louise, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Harris, of No. 536 West Grace Street, to Mr. Wilfred L. Goodwin, will take place December 15th.

Mr. Goodwin is a son of Judge C. S. Goodwin, of Nottingham, and the nephew of Mrs. Robert O. Thornton, of this city. The wedding will be one of the interesting social happenings of December.

The wedding of Miss Lula F. Mountcastle to Mr. Samuel E. Frischhorn will take place Tuesday, December 1st, at the residence of the bride, No. 2402 East Broad Street. Miss Mountcastle is the daughter of the late Oliver Mountcastle and Mrs. Martha Hinchman Mountcastle. Mr. Frischhorn is the son of the late Mr. F. N. and Julia Meredith Frischhorn, and is connected with the Halpin-Newcomb Tobacco Company.

Mrs. Thomas A. Walls is in the city to attend the Frischhorn-Mountcastle wedding, and is stopping with Mrs.
